start by just folding down the concertina

folded three folds the center one and then two on each side folded up the two concertinas

cut off four folds

score a half inch on each side gluing probably a half inch position this into the fold

keep folding in the concertina put the glue on this paper at the edges

close both the concertinas

You should end up with four frames and one uncut sheet of poster board.

Glue the end section of each sheet of folded card stock to the uncut sheet of poster board.

Once the glue is dry, flip it over and glue the other end flaps of the folded sheets to the back of one of the poster board frames.

Let the glue dry.

Let's put together our scene.

In the front frame of my forest scene, I'm using the largest objects.

The objects are going to get smaller in the frames behind to help give the illusion of depth.

You can stack the frames to help figure out the best placement for your cutouts. For the background layer I'm using a landscape drawing

Intro
The question Heather asked about confidence that so many of you have.
This is a "doing podcast," so here's your first assignment.
Your new definition of confidence that embodies the research.
Here is one of the simplest and yet profound reasons for my success.
Feeling like an imposter? Great! Here's why.
Alex's question led us to talk about Myth #1 about confidence.
Myth #2 about confidence needs to be laid to rest.
Telling yourself that you lost your confidence? Then listen to Myth #3.
Use tool #1 to interrupt your self-doubt and do what you're afraid of.
Confidence does not come before action; THIS does.
Rule #2 is fun; research says it's the fastest way to create new habits.
Rule #3 is absolutely essential if you want to build confidence.
Rule #4 is what I tell myself every time I'm about to do something scary.
I don't want to come to the end of my life feeling this.
Do you like this person you're spending your life with?
This is the hard truth about life that you need to hear.
