"There are two questions the apologist will naturally ask himself [about his private reading].

Apologia: a formal defense especially of one's beliefs, position or actions.

"... But Jesus said to them, 'A prophet is not without honor except in his own country, among his own relatives, and in his own house.' Now Jesus could do no mighty work there, except that He laid His hands on a few sick people and healed them. And He marveled because of their unbelief." (Mark 6:4-6,)

Ipsa facto: "by the fact itself", which means that a specific phenomenon is a direct consequence, a resultant effect, of the action in question, instead of being brought about by a previous action.

A priori: literally, "from what is earlier."

In Vacuo: in a vacuum or in isolation.

This was a French Canadian fire at the Laurier Palace Theatre in Montreal.
