Counseling A Guide to Brief (but effective) Therapy

It is not about how people behave with each other...but it is about how they respond based on emotional bonds

It is not about training people to communicate...it is about creating an emotional bond that helps families communicate well.

It is not about training people to manage conflict or resolve differences...it is about creating the emotional bond to want to do it right!

It is not about confession...but Learning how to humbly Forgive by forgiving like God does!
