All You Need Is a Pencil: The Stuck in a Car, Plane, or Train Activity Book

Vacation--no homework, no school, and no more teacher's dirty looks! Unfortunately, it usually begins with the family sitting around somewhere or stuck in a plane, train, or car. BOR-IIIING! Fortunately, with these quizzes, puzzles, games, and doodles, the fun doesn't have to wait, even if you do. And you can do them anywhere--no electricity needed--with just a pencil. Fill in travel quotes, writing in the name of anyone who says one of the phrases on the page--like "I have to go to the bathroom" or "I think we're lost." Play gomoku, a two-person game that's similar to tic-tac-toe. Plan the ultimate vacation--a week anywhere in the world. Draw creepy critters, try tongue-tripping-twisters, and unscramble anagrams. It's all so entertaining that no one will ask the dreaded question: Are we there yet?

Budding fashionistas can design a t-shirt on the page (and maybe a real one), while future rock 'n' roll stars can pick the perfect band name by picking from a word list or by randomly choosing phrases from the dictionary. A few games are meant for two--just in case a friend's around. Adventures in Stationery

We are surrounded by stationery: half-chewed Cristal Bics and bent paper clips, rubber bands to fiddle with or ping, blunt pencils, rubbers and Tipp-ex are integral parts of our everyday environment. So much so that we never think about where they come from, why they are the way they are - or what stories they might have to tell. But luckily, James Ward does and he's here to tell you all about the secret pull stationery exerts on our lives. After all, who remains unmoved by the sight of a pristine blu-tak slab, or the first unmarked sheet of a brand new notepad? And which of humanity's brightest ideas didn't start life on a scrap of paper, a Post-it, or in the margins of a notebook? Exploring the stories behind these everyday objects, Ward reveals tales of invention - accidental and brilliant - and bitter rivalry. He also asks the questions you never thought you had: Who is Mr Pritt? What does shatter-proof resistant mean? How many pens does Argos use? And what does design evolutions in desk organisers mean for society? This witty and entertaining book, packed with fascinating facts, will change the way you look at your desk, pencil case or stationery cupboard forever.
